Limitations and restrictions

I am committed to providing my clients with good financial advice that is suitable for my client's needs. I only provide financial advice on insurance products.

How do I act with integrity?

To ensure that I prioritise your interests above my own, I follow an advice process that ensures recommendations are made based on your individual goals and circumstances. I complete annual and ongoing training about how to manage conflicts of interests and a register of interests is maintained. MW Insurance monitors these registers and provides additional training where necessary. MW Insurance performs an annual review of the compliance programme.

You should be aware that if there are potential conflicts of interest that you, the client, may need to take into consideration when you decide to seek and accept financial advice from us, I will make you aware of any conflicts when giving advice.

How do we get paid for the financial advice and products that we provide to you?

I do not receive any commission or other incentives for giving financial advice. MW Insurance may receive commission and/or a fee when the client accepts our financial advice and purchases an insurance policy. The commission is paid by the insurer (product provider) for the insurance business on each insurance policy that the client purchases.

The commission paid to MW Insurance is on average 14% of the company premium and company natural disaster portion for commercial policies and 19% of the company premium for personal policies (Total premium of the insurance policy less government levies and taxes). The commission percentage is provided during quote stage and is displayed in dollar amount on invoices.

MW Insurance may also charge clients a fee for financial advice. We will tell you what the fee is before you accept any advice from myself or our other advisers. We will charge fees that are payable by you the client when our advice is followed, accepted and the insurance policy is purchased. The fees we charge are for our service, placement, implementation, and administration of the insurance policies that the client chooses to accept and purchase. The total fees payable may increase with the number of insurance policies that the client chooses to purchase. The fees are payable by you and are due by the effective date of the policy which is on the invoice.

I receive an annual salary that may include bonuses based on client service performance and achievement of Company goals.
